

MMA WEEKLY STOCK INDICES REPORT
FOR THE WEEK OF JUNE 22, 2026

GEOCOSMIC CRITICAL REVERSAL DATES (CRDs)

These dates affect all markets. They are the midpoints of geocosmic clusters and have a normal orb of three days on either side (82% rate of frequency). Sometimes, they expand to as much as six days (90+% frequency with that orb). The idea is to see a new two-week or greater high or low and then a reversal. It is especially effective when major, half-primary, or primary cycle troughs are due. These are more important than the solar-lunar reversal dates: the more stars, the greater the historical correlation with a cycle culmination. Please read Volume 3 of the Stock Market Timing series for more information. Below is the midpoint date, and in parentheses, the length of time containing the geocosmic signatures (known as a "cluster"). If the cluster is long (more than 15 days), there may be other possible reversals based on tighter geocosmic clusters within the greater cluster.

June 16-17* (watch grains and currencies)

June 26-29***

July 6****

July 17-20*** (This is the magnet for trend continuation and then reversal +/- 10 days)

These periods are usually more important than the solar/lunar reversal zones. They are usually more accurate because they have a wider orb of time (+/- 3 trading days vs. +/- 1 trading day for solar/lunars). They will correspond more often with major, half-primary, or full primary cycles, whereas lunar reversals need only correspond to 2.5% reversals in stocks.

ABBREVIATIONS:

CRD = Geocosmic Critical Reversal Date

ATH = All-Time High

MA = Moving Average

PB = Primary cycle bottom

PT = Primary cycle top

MB = Major cycle bottom

MT = Major cycle top

TB = Trading cycle bottom

TT = Trading cycle top

DJIA Cash: Review by Gianni Di Poce and Ray Merriman, MMA Analysts: Last week's close was a bearish trigger. The close was above the weekly trend indicator point (TIP) for the 12th consecutive week, which means it remains in a trend run-up.

This week's trend indicator point (TIP) is 51,216. It will be downgraded back to neutral if it closes below there this week.

Weekly support is 51,106-51,192. A trade below, followed by a close back above this range, is a bullish trigger.

Weekly resistance is 52,023-52,109. A trade above here, followed by a close back below this range, is a bearish trigger.

Bullish crossover zones are in effect at 42,515-42,826, 36,359-36,747, 35,379-35,753, 34,442-34,524, 32,890-33,248, 31,468-31,997, 30,488-30,521, 24,769-24,894, 21,925-22,561, 18,931-19,018, 18,043-18,408, 17,348-17,352, 15,029-15,149, 13,717-13,760, 13,070-13,163, 12,799-12,802, 11,513-11,572, and 8266-8433.

The DJIA closed above bearish crossover zones previously at 46,489-46,529, 46,178-46,285, 44,391-44,529, 44,071-44,213, 35,208-36,348, 34,981-35,530, 34,378-34,426, 27,522-28,013, 20,599-21,252, 18,318-18,367, 18,083-18,087, and 16,892-17,314, so these are now support.

Trend Indicator Studies

The Basic Trend Indicator was once again reinforced in favor of the bulls last week, with the new all-time high on June 17 at 52,281, which came after the higher-low on June 10 at 49,909, in the form of a half-primary cycle trough. The trend remains bullish. There's still time for additional new highs in the primary and 50-week cycles, although we're starting to get into the later stages of the primary cycle.

The weekly trend-moving average indicator remains bullish in the Dow. The DJIA closed the week at 51,564, up 362 points from the prior week. The close was above the 25-week moving average (49,909), the 50-week MA (47,621), and the 78-week MA (45,742). The 25-week MA is still above the 50-week MA, and the 25- and 50-week MAs are well above the 78-week MA. Prices are above all the moving averages, so it's bullish. The Dow hit another new all-time high last week, and still has time for additional 3-year cycle highs to form. The 50-week cycle has a range of 34-67 weeks, and in most cases, 38-62 weeks, so it was in the regular time band. This would only begin the 12th week of a new 50-week cycle. The faster-moving averages remain above the slower ones, and as long as this continues, the worst that could happen is for the Dow to be downgraded back to neutral.

Prices would have to decline below all moving averages to be downgraded back to neutral. The Dow would have to drop below each MA, with each faster MA crossing below the slower-moving averages to be downgraded to "bearish." If prices remain above all three moving averages, it will remain fully bullish.

The daily moving average trend study (for traders) remains bullish. The daily close (51,564) was above the 15-day moving average (51,126) and the 45-day MA at 50,125. The 15-day moving average is still above the 45-day moving average, and with prices above both, it's bullish. It would be downgraded back to bearish if prices close below both the 15-day average and the 45-day moving average, and if the 15-day average drops below the 45-day. It will be downgraded back to bullish-turning neutral if prices drop below the 15-day moving average, but it stays above the 45-day moving average.

The Primary Cycle and Longer Cycles

Preferred primary cycle labeling: This week starts the 12th week in the primary cycle from the March 30 low at 45,057. The low that started the cycle occurred 19 weeks after the November 20 low at 45,728, and in the typical 13-23 week range for a cycle low. It was also one day beyond the 3-day orb of the April 3-6 CRD, after a 7-week pullback from the all-time high of February 10 at 50,512.

The primary cycle in the Dow breaks down into two or three cycle phases. Major cycles (three-phase) in the Dow last 5-8 weeks, and half-primary cycles (two-phase) last 8-11 weeks. The Dow completed a major cycle low on May 20 at 49,235, inside the orb of the May 22-26 CRD and within the 3-8 day corrective time band for a bottom. This means that the 5th week of the second major cycle phase starts this week. But as explained last week, "...it would appear that a half-primary cycle low was just completed last week on June 10 at 49,909. This occurred after another sharp, but brief, 3-day corrective decline, and it occurred in the 8-11 week window for a half-primary cycle low." This was confirmed via the rally to new all-time highs afterward. This week also starts the 2nd week in the second half-primary cycle phase. However, as we head into the June 26-29 CRD orb this week, we should be alert for a potential major cycle crest and a trough. It may have even occurred on June 17 at 52,281. If so, a 3-8 day corrective decline could form a major cycle low this week or next.

As the Dow hit another new all-time high, it's all but confirmed this first primary cycle phase within the greater 50-week cycle as being bullish. Cycles that spend more time going up than down exhibit "bullish right translation," and often signal positive things for the cycle to follow.

Alternate primary cycle labeling: There is none anymore.

Geocosmics and CRDs

Last week stated, "We got a higher-low the day after Venus conjunct Jupiter. It remains rather quiet this week on the geocosmic front, save for Venus trine Neptune on June 16 and Venus opposite Pluto on June 17. Markets will also be closed on Friday this week in observance of Juneteenth." It cannot be ruled out that a major cycle crest formed on June 17, the same day Venus was opposite Pluto. If so, a 3-8 day corrective decline may already be underway, and the June 26-29 CRD, whose orb begins on Tuesday, could lead to the formation of a low. Aspects this week include Venus trine Saturn and Sun square Neptune (June 25), followed by Mars ingressing into Gemini on June 28. Mercury will also start its retrograde motion on June 29, and the following day, on June 30, Jupiter ingresses into Leo.

Technicals, Chart Patterns, and Price Targets

Price Targets & Chart Patterns: The breakout to new all-time highs last week satisfied the price objective noted before in the 52,000-52,250 zone from the ascending triangle formation. These are continuation patterns; the trend is up, and now the target has been achieved. This is a logical area for the Dow to pause for a couple of days. Not to mention, prices hit the upside target provided in the Forecast 2026 book at 51,609-52,342.

But now, it appears as though an ascending price channel has formed on the Dow's daily chart. These are continuation patterns as well, and as long as prices remain within the channel, it's bullish. If prices break below the lower trendline of the channel, it would only signal that the market's rate-of-ascent, or slope, is no longer in effect. If it breaks above the upper trendline of the pattern, it could blow off into a high in the 59,500-60,500 zone for this primary cycle. As long as the Dow holds above 48,500-49,000, the path of least resistance remains higher.

Intermarket Divergence: There could be a case of intermarket bearish divergence right now, as the Dow hit a new all-time high, but the September contracts in both the S&P and Nasdaq did not. However, the continuous contracts in both the S&P and Nasdaq did in fact hit new all-time highs. Thus, this isn't as strong a signal right now, especially if the S&P and Nasdaq September contracts hit new all-time highs this week. If not, then we could see a sideways drift into the month-end.

Oscillator: A bit of bearish divergence in price from the RSI indicator is in play here, as prices hit a new all-time high, but the RSI did not. We're in the territory now where a primary cycle crest could form at any time, so this warning signal should be heeded as it implies upside momentum is waning.

Solar-lunar studies from 1930 by MMTA graduate student Yating Hu. We will now give values for full reversal, as well as highs and lows.

Lunar cycles for the next two weeks are as follows: Anything above 113 means there is a higher-than-expected probability of a reversal from an isolated high or low. The more *, the more likely a reversal. The more #, the less likely a reversal. If it states, "often a high" or "often a low," it means that a high or a low has occurred about twice as often as a high or a low in the past. However, if the value has an asterisk next to it, it should be looked upon more as a reversal, whether historically it has been more often a high or a low. Other figures to the right indicate reversal periods that deserve attention, as shown by the recent studies by MMTA student Yating Hu.

Strategy: Position traders are long with a stop loss on a daily close below 49,909 now after covering 1/3 for an excellent first profit. Traders were advised, “Let’s cover another 1/3 on a rally to 52,300 +/- 60 if offered.” Got this off for another excellent profit.

Aggressive traders were long with a stop on a daily close below 49,235 after covering 2/3, buying back, and covering another 2/3 for an excellent profit. Traders were advised, “Let’s cover the final 1/3 on a rally to 52,300 +/- 60 and stand aside.” Got this off for a final, excellent profit. Let’s stand aside this week.

ESU (Sep S&P e-mini) by Gianni Di Poce, MMA Analyst.

Last week's close was a bearish trigger. The close was above the weekly trend indicator point (TIP) for the 1st time in 3 weeks, which means it remains neutral.

This week's trend indicator point (TIP) is 7512.25. It will remain neutral unless it closes sharply higher or lower this week.

Weekly support is 7479-7482.50. A close below this range would be bearish, whereas a trade below and a close back above is a bullish trigger.

Weekly resistance is 7655.50-7659. A close above this range would be bullish, whereas a trade above and a close back below is a bearish trigger.

Bullish crossover zones are in effect at 5747.25-5853.75, 4684.50-4698.25, 4459.25-4460.50, 4221.75-4252, 3742.50-3817, 2588.25-2617.50, 2206.75-2219.25, 1661.25-1663, 1405.50-1418, 1381.75-1382.75, 1263-1263.25, 1184.25-1196.75, 889.55-902.40, and 791.10-791.25.

A bearish crossover zone just formed at 7598.50-7604 (traded above, closed below). Prices previously closed above bearish crossover zones at 5459.75-5537.75, 4562-4566.25, 4439.50-4472.50, 4016.75-4051, 3375.50-3404.75, and 3180.50-3312.75, so these are support.

Preferred primary cycle labeling: This week begins the 12th week in the primary cycle from the March 31 low at 6353.25. The low occurred 19 weeks after the November 21 low at 6525, and in the regular 15-23 week time band for a low. It was also in the orb of the April 3-6 CRD.

The S&P also begins the 12th week of a newer 50-week cycle. Unlike the Dow, the S&P still hasn't made a new cycle high beyond Tuesday of the 9th week. It may do so this week, though, as there was just a contract roll from June to September in the futures market.

The primary cycle is made up of phases that include major cycles lasting 5-8 weeks and half-primary cycles lasting 8-12 weeks. The S&P formed a major cycle low on May 19 at 7354.25 after correcting for 3 days from the major cycle crest of May 14 at 7540. The low was in the orb of the May 22-26 CRD. This week, therefore, starts the 5th week in the second major cycle phase. However, a half-primary cycle low was confirmed with the June 11 low, too, which means this week starts the 2nd week in the second half-primary cycle phase. We should remain alert for a major cycle crest to form in the upcoming June 26-29 CRD period, followed by a 3-8 day corrective decline into a major cycle trough. A combination pattern is underway in this primary cycle.

Alternate primary cycle labeling: There is none anymore.

Geocosmics: Please read the commentary for this section in the DJIA analysis. The analysis there is precisely the same for the S&P now.

Price targets and technicals: After registering a higher-low with respect to the trend, the S&P looks to be on the verge of another new all-time high. This is needed to keep the trend firmly in the camp of the bulls.

Previously, the broadening wedge pattern was the primary focus for upside targets. It stated, "...there's the upside projection from the broadening wedge formation that the S&P broke out from a couple of weeks ago. The pattern continues to signal a rally as high as 7650-7700 in time, probably in this primary cycle. This could be the price zone for the primary cycle crest to occur, but it may rally as high as 7750-7800 before it tops out. Let's see if the RSI can hit overbought again on this rally." The upside objectives are still in play. But now, it looks as though an ascending triangle pattern has formed too, which projects a rally as high as 7950-8050. If we get a surge into the irrational exuberance signatures in mid-July, this could correspond to the primary cycle crest. We need to be alert for the RSI to hit overbought (above 70) on any new highs from here on out, too.

Strategy: Position traders are long with a stop loss on a daily close below 7395 now, after covering 2/3 for an excellent profit already. Let's cover the final 1/3 on a rally to 8000 +/- 12 if offered and stand aside.

Aggressive traders are long with a stop loss on a daily close below 7395 now, after covering 2/3 for an excellent profit, buying back, and covering another 1/3 for an excellent profit. Traders were advised, "Let's cover another 1/3 on a rally to 7645 +/- 12 if offered." Got this off for another excellent profit. Let's cover the final 1/3 on a rally to 7800 +/- 12 if offered and stand aside.

VAG traders are long with a stop loss on a daily close below 7395 now, after covering 1/3 for an excellent profit. Traders were advised, "Let's cover another 1/3 on a rally to 7645 +/- 12 if offered." Got this off for another excellent profit. Let's cover the final 1/3 on a rally to 7800 +/- 12 if offered and stand aside.

NQU (September e-mini-NASDAQ) by Pouyan Zolfagharnia, MMA Analyst.

Last week's close was mostly bullish, closing into the weekly resistance zone. The close was above the TIP, continuing the trend run-up.

This week's TIP is 29,948. It will be downgraded to neutral if we close below it this week.

Weekly support is 30,108-30,200. A close below this range would be bearish, whereas a trade below and a close back above is a bullish trigger.

Bullish crossover zones remain in effect at 28,130-28,447, 25,837-25,851, 20,430-20,824, 16,448.50-16,499.50, 16,190-16,194, 14,674.25-14,723.50, 13,670.25-13,711.25, 12,042.25-12,149, 11,280-11,345, 5711-5745, 5482-5516.50, 5259-5275, 5085.75-5093.50, and 4410-4418. We closed back above 29,959-30,274, which negates this zone and will be removed.

Prices closed above previous bearish crossover zones at 30,133-30,274, 18,812-18,818, 16,817-16,906, 16,108-16,197, 15,189-15,253, 12,955-13,084, 9073.50-9325.25, 6372-6489.50, 4747-4756, 4437-4540.25, 4410-4419, and 4176-4178. These are all support zones now.

Preferred primary cycle labeling: We are commencing week 12 of the 15-23-week primary cycle measured off the March 31 low of 22,962. This low was also a 50-week cycle bottom as confirmed by the stellar rise to new ATHs.

We now have both confirmations for a bullish cycle by taking out the crest of the prior cycle and forming new highs after Tuesday of week 9.

Major cycles in the NASDAQ form between weeks 5-8 in a classical three-phase cycle and 8-12 weeks in a two-phase cycle. The first major cycle low formed on May 19 at 28,663. We then rallied to a new ATH of 30,808 on June 3, which was the half-primary crest. The half-primary trough formed on June 9 in the 10th week. Therefore, we are in a bullish combination cycle. June 22, therefore, begins the 5th week of the second major cycle and the 2nd week of the second half-primary cycle. We are now entering the 4-week orb of the second major cycle trough. The major cycle crest may form within the orb of the Sun-Neptune square on June 25, which forms part of the June 26-29 CRD. It will be important whether or not the NASDAQ can hit a new all-time high as the second major cycle crest forms.

Alternate primary cycle labeling: There is none.

Geocosmics: This week, we enter the orb of the June 26-29 CRD on Tuesday. I'm looking for a major cycle crest to form this week or next, and be followed by a 3-8 day decline into the major cycle trough likely in early July, perhaps into the upcoming July 6 two-star CRD.

Price Targets and Technicals: The upside 50-week MCP price target remains at 32,900 +/- 1,940. We are marginally below this target but have plenty of time to rally higher.

Strategy: Position traders are long 2/3 again, having reloaded at the major cycle trough. The stop-loss is 27,100. Cover 1/3 at 33,000 +/- 100 if offered.

Aggressive traders are long 2/3 with a stop-loss below 28,000. Cover 1/3 at 31,100 +/- 100 if offered.

Very aggressive traders are long 1/3 with a stop-loss below 28,000. We managed to cover another 1/3 at last week's target of 31,000 +/- 100. Cover the remainder at 31,300 +/- 100 if offered.

NOTE 4: COMING SOON: RAY MERRIMAN'S NEW BOOK ON "JUPITER AND SATURN TRANSITS: MASTERING THE CYCLES OF LIFE." This is NOT the book you would expect from Ray Merriman. But it is a book you will need, use, and value for the rest of your life if you study astrology, and especially if you are also a trader. This 400+ page book covers all the major transits of Jupiter to one's natal planets and angles, including interpretations of the opening and closing sextile, square, and trine aspects. The Saturn section also includes the opening and closing semi-square and sesquiquadrate transits to all natal planets and angles, plus the "Business Cycle" of transiting Saturn. Each transiting aspect is ranked from -3 to +3 in terms of trading and investment potential, which alone is worth the price of the book.

Here are early reviews by two of the world's leading astrologers after receiving an early draft of this book:

Ray Merriman surprises us with a new book on transits! The book covers the delineation of planetary aspects of two of the most important traditional planets: the classical supportive and encouraging Jupiter aspects on the one hand, and the restrictive but also stabilizing Saturn aspects on the other. The descriptions of transits by an experienced and renowned astrologer are, together with his recommendations, of immense value. Going beyond the symbolic meaning of planetary combinations, Ray Merriman draws on his rich experience with planetary transits to provide the reader with practical interpretations and useful recommendations. To these, he adds advice for investors and traders in order to enable them to make the most of specific transits. A highly recommendable and easily understandable book about transits for modern readers interested in the way astrology works in daily life.

- Claude Weiss, author, teacher, and owner of AstroData, Zurich, Switzerland, as well as one of the most highly respected mundane astrologers in the history of astrology.

Ray Merriman's Transits of Jupiter and Saturn: Mastering the Cycles of Life is beautifully and fluidly written, and we know from the first chapter that we are in the hands of a master with his experience of astrology honed over decades. I loved his descriptions of the Jupiter and Saturn cycles in our lives, detailing the transits to all of the personal planets in one's birth chart. Even being an experienced astrologer myself, I learned a lot through these descriptions in terms of how these transits affect us personally. However, what is unique about this book is that Ray has also written it through the lens of financial market investment potential and timing for each aspect, also differentiating between waxing and waning aspects, which was fascinating. He has used a scale of positive and negative potential for each aspect, also drawing a distinction between that potential for traders and investors. This is invaluable advice. I highly recommend this book to all budding and more experienced astrologers. Thank you, Ray, for this unique contribution!

NOTE 5: THE JUPITER REPORT: YOUR MOMENTS OF OPPORTUNITY! The Jupiter Report is written by Raymond Merriman. It is a 30- to 40-page report that all traders (and even non-traders) will find highly valuable. It identifies the times during the year when Jupiter transits are highlighted in your natal chart and explains the meaning of Jupiter's transits to your natal planets and angles over a 14-month period (including one month before your order date and one month after the year ends). As an added bonus, each transit is ranked on a scale from -3 to +3 in terms of favorability for trading. Traders may find this especially valuable! Would you like to know if you are under a +3 transit and therefore most likely to experience trading success? Or a -3 transit, with a stronger-than-usual potential for misjudgments that can be costly? The price for a personal 14-month Jupiter Report based on your birth data is $69.

Coming soon! The Saturn Report: Mastering Your Life Cycles. Due out in late summer or early fall.

Information is provided herein with sincere intent and according to MMA's original research studies and methodologies. These reports are provided mainly for "speculators." By its very nature, "speculation" means "willing to take the risk of loss." "Speculators" must be willing to accept the fact that they are going to have losing trades, many more than, say, "investors." That is why they are "speculators." The way "speculators" become profitable is not so much by a high percentage of winning trades but by controlling the amount of loss on any given trade, so the average trade on winners is considerably more than the average trade on losing trades.

MMA's comments, strategies, and data are provided as guidelines for traders each day and/or week. Comments and strategies are based upon intraday and intraweek highs, lows, and closes at the end of the day or week. Traders are advised to use these only as guidelines - and use intraday analysis to establish positions in the directions of comments given, so long as those support/resistance (entrance) areas. Looks favorable according to intraday analysis as well. Support and resistance are areas for day traders to look to buy and sell intraday. No guarantees are made for accuracy.

Support may represent favorable risk/reward places to buy if the trend is up. If prices trade below support, then have a close back above; it is considered a bullish "trigger" and oftentimes represents a good buy signal. Resistance may represent favorable risk/reward places to go short if the trend is down. If prices trade above it, then have a weekly close back below; it is considered a bearish "trigger" and oftentimes is a good sell signal.
